

Editor's pause for thought

Well here we are in 2016 and the editorial team wishes everyone a Happy New Year.

There is a big challenge ahead for the SCN editorial team, including Phil. He reported in our last issue that he will be taking an indefinite break from being main editor and after 30 years of doing the job he deserves a well-earned rest!

The rest of us will be attempting to step into some 'big shoes' and do as good a job as he has done, by managing the entire magazine from start to finish when our turn as sole editor comes around.

The role this issue falls upon me and on behalf all the team and also our 2 'new recruits' Sarah and Steve we want to say a very big thank you to Phil for all his hard work. He is still 'one of us' and will be editor for issue 207!
